V SCUOLA ESTIVA SISEC 2022 Società Italiana di Sociologia Economica

The theme of the 2022 edition was the relationship between work, business and the local area. Work and its organization must be understood within companies and their territories by considering, on the one hand, the policies of public and private actors aimed at building local and regional collective goods and, on the other hand, long and short networks, with a high or low added value, together with the physical and social infrastructures that the territories can offer.
