WELCOME TO CASATENOVO

A practical guide to discovering the town, its services and opportunities

Welcome to Casatenovo!

You won't only find beautiful landscapes and historic villas here, but also people, which is the most important thing.

Casatenovo is a community made up of approximately 13,000 residents nestled in the Brianza Lecchese area, among hills, footpaths, and a pace of life that still leaves room for neighbourliness. It's a town that knows how to take care of itself: a place where people meet, where public spaces are utilised, and where the calendar of local events is kept alive by volunteers who choose to offer their free time. The associations and parish youth centers (oratori) are the beating heart of this: they animate neighbourhoods and villages, organize, welcome, and keep their doors open even when the offices are closed. If you want to understand what Casatenovo is really like, that's where you need to look.

The Local Authority does its part – providing schools, nursery and child care facilities, social services, the library, digital help desks – but this town is made, above all, by and of people. People with different stories, habits, and traditions who have blended together over time and shaped what exists today. Now we're waiting for your story too, because every new story enriches the ones that are already here.

We don't expect you to fall in love immediately. We ask you to look around, make use of the public spaces, to introduce yourself to your neighbours. That's where everything begins.

Welcome among us!

Mayor Filippo Galbiati
and the Municipal Administration

HISTORICAL, ARCHITECTURAL, NATURAL, AND SPORTING NOTES

A territory to discover, a history to know.

Casatenovo, located in the heart of Brianza Lecchese, is the largest and one of the most populous towns in the Merate area. It is characterized by a polycentric territory that combines economic development with the enhancement of its landscape, historical and rural heritage.

Casatenovo is a lively community, animated by cultural events, theatrical seasons, and food-and-wine initiatives. These activities are made possible thanks to the efforts of the Pro Loco (local tourist association) and numerous local organisations that actively promote and support the area.

Casatenovo has ancient origins as a strategic settlement between Milan and Lecco. From the 14th century onwards, under the influence of the Casati family, its development grew, later becoming an important commercial and agri-food hub while maintaining the typical industriousness of Brianza.

It is notable for its architectural heritage, with historic villas (such as Villa Facchi, Villa D'Adda-Mariani, and Villa Mapelli-Mozzi) and numerous religious buildings, including the Church of San Giorgio and the Sanctuary of Our Lady of Częstochowa.

The town is made up of several villages, each with its own identity (Rogoredo, Campofiorengo, Galgiana, Cascina Bracchi, Valaperta, and Rimoldo), and features a hilly, green territory rich in historic farmsteads that bear witness to its rural soul.

Nestled in the foothills of pre-Alpine landscape, it offers many opportunities for outdoor activities due to its close vicinity to the Valle del Lambro Park and the nearby Montevicchia and Valle del Curone Park, ideal for walking, hiking, and cycling.
